Kandasamy and 61. A. Saravanan, is justified or not? If justified, what relief they are entitled to?

(b) To compute the relief if any, awarded in terms of money if, it can be so computed?

2. The averments set forth in the petition is as follows:

The Petitioner Manakular Motors Thozhilalar Sangam having 61 number of workers working in the respondent company for more than 10 years and there is no remark at all as against the petitioners so far. The petitioners performed all works assigned by the respondent more than 12 hours without any safety, health, statutory leave or welfare and also the workers were getting very low salary, hence, the workers demanded wage increase/revision and E.S.I., E.P.F. benefits from the respondent management but they were not ready to increase the wages. A Memorandum of settlement with the workers entered on 22-01-2015 to pay all the pending bonus, wages and incentive within a period of 20 working days starting from 24-01-2015 was not obeyed and further, the management lodged a false FIR against the innocent workers with the help of Mudaliarpet Police Station, Puducherry.

(ii) The respondent ignored the demands raised by the workers and thereby, the respondent started all sort of unfair labour practice as against the petitioners. The respondent management had threatened and simply thrown out the workers from the employment from 2014 onwards without any charges and reason which is against the principles of natural justice. Therefore, the petitioner approached the Labour Officer (Conciliation), Puducherry, for reinstatement and the same ended in vain. The management utilized the workers like slave and exploited their tender age and not considered their welfare and all other benefits which are enumerated in the labour laws. The respondent management denied the employment to the petitioners without following the mandatory procedures which is enumerated in the labour laws which is absolutely illegal and therefore, the respondent is liable to reinstate the petitioners with full back wages and continuity of service.

(iii) The respondent after accumulating huge wealth from the business, had sold the company and settled and the company is now not in existence at Pondicherry, the respondent by eating valuable work and life of the claimant created such wealth and hence, liable to compensate the claimants for loss of their life. Hence, the petitioners pray for reinstatement with full back wages and continuity of service or in the event of impossibility of reinstatement to give appropriate compensation.

3. Notice served to both the Petitioner and Respondent. Petitioner appeared and engaged an Advocate to represent him and filed claim statement but, the Respondent inspite of receipt of notice has remained absent and hence, the Respondent Management was set ex parte on 06-12-2022.

4. Point for determination:

Whether, the Petitioner Workmen are entitled for the prayer of reinstatement with consequential benefits or in the event of impossibility of reinstatement for compensation as prayed in the Claim Petition?

5. On Point:

Respondent remained ex parte and the Petitioner filed Proof affidavit and examined himself as PW1. Exs.P1 to P4 were marked.

6. On the point:

The contention of the petitioner Union is that in the petitioner sangam, there are 61 members who are workmen working in the respondent management. The further contention of the petitioner is that the abovesaid workmen have more than 10 years of service, but, the respondent management without providing overtime allowances and without following safety, healthy and statutory leave was extracting work from the workers by paying low salary and therefore, workmen demanded wage revision and other benefits and during the conciliation proceedings, the management agreed to settle the issues of bonus, wages and incentives as per settlement, dated 22-01-2015, but, later failed to settle the issues and therefore, the petitioner got direction to register FIR as against the management for misappropriation of P.F. amount and hence, the respondent resorted to all unfair labour practices and refused to provide employment to the members of the petitioner Sangam. The further contention of the petitioner is that the conciliation proceedings also ended in failure and therefore, the present industrial dispute was raised.

7. In this case, the respondent inspite of receipt of notice has remained ex parte. This Court on perusal of evidence of P.W.1 finds that it is the case of the petitioner that the respondent has adopted unfair labour practice by not providing employment to 61 workmen.

8. This Court on perusal of evidence of P.W.1 and exhibits relied by the petitioner holds that the petitioner has proved the claim and further, the evidence of P.W.1 remains unchallenged and unrebutted by the respondent. In this case, though the petitioners have stated in the claim petition that the business has been sold, but, to substantiate the same nothing has been produced and apart from that inspite of said averments the petitioners have sought for the relief of reinstatement with consequential benefits. Hence, this Court on considering the above submissions holds that the petitioner workmen are entitled for the claim as made in the claim statement. Thus, the dispute raised by the petitioner is held to be justified.

In the result, this industrial dispute petition is allowed and the respondent management is directed to reinstate the petitioner workmen with full back wages and continuity of service and all attendant benefits. There is no order as to costs.
